AUTHOR: RICH LUSK

CATEGORIES

STATE
CHURCH FAMILY
SOCIETY
CULTURE
FORUM
RESOURCES
REPORTS

RICH LUSK has been involved in pastoral ministry for nearly 30 years and has been the pastor of Trinity Presbyterian Church (CREC) in Birmingham, AL for 20 years. Previously, he served at churches in Austin, TX, and Monroe, LA. He has also taught students and trained teachers in the classical Christian school movement. He has written numerous books, commentaries, articles, and essays, including curriculum material for the Veritas Press Omnibus series, the book Paedofaith, and most recently, The Measures of the Mission. He has co-authored commentaries on Ruth and Jonah with Uri Brito. Rich's primary interests include theology, philosophy, hermeneutics, history, and literature. Rich and his wife are blessed with four grown children (three of whom are married) and one grandchild (so far!). Rich is a graduate of Auburn University (B.S. in Microbiology) and the University of Texas (Masters in Philosophy). His X handle is @Vicar1973.

CALVINISM: NOT JUST A PRETTY TULIP

RICH LUSK / 11.14.24 CHURCH

SUBSCRIBE TO AMERICAN REFORMER
Get our newsletter delivered directly to your inbox

Enter your email address (required)
SUBSCRIBE

CONTACT US

TIMON CLINE, EDITOR

EDITORIAL@AMERICANREFORMER.ORG

SUBMIT AN ARTICLE

COPYRIGHT © 2022 AMERICAN REFORMER